Help Fill a Local Need: Volunteer Your Time

Find something in your community that suits you. This community primarily functions through volunteers. We have many new community members and this community can benefit from a little bit of your time. The many new community members tax the already over stretched, long standing volunteers that oil the works of the under supported needs of the north end communities.

If you have questions of how you can help feel free to contact me, Glenna Wade, via Facebook [glennasonly] and I can help you find an activity that suits you.

Letter to the Editor

People in this Community SAY that they want the kids to have more to do to keep them out of trouble. This year, we are trying with a dance once a month for everyone to come and enjoy. As soon as we try to announce our dance, someone else schedules something at the same time. We try to correlate so that we do not step on someones toes, so that everyone has a chance to go to all the activities put on in that month. We want a new library so there will be more room for the kids to study in a safe environment and do better in school. I have been here 29 years and I really wonder why our community is so uncooperative and petty? I am so tired of whining and bad mouthing everything anyone tries to do to make a better place for our kids, elder and our Vets. GROW UP WILL YOU! The dance is for everyone from a babe in arms to the oldest person. It gives people of all ages a place to go to be social, without drugs and alcohol. I have had my say, but as usual, no one will read or think at all about what was said, because this is the truth.

Something to Think About

Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "To be yourself in a world that is constantly trying to make you something else is the greatest accomplishment." It is also the greatest struggle, in my opinion, to leave at the door the sentiments and expectations of others and lead with your truth. Lately I've looked for inspiration in the words of others to help me resist the urge to become an imitation of someone else and to embrace the person I am.

REMEMBERING OUR ELDERS PART 1

In researching my herb articles, mostly written by Elders, I have found a lack in the world around me, in our communities and families. Where are our elders? What place in our communities have we created for them? Who listens to their stories, hungering for the rich experiences they store in a lifetime of memories? What is a community without its wizened elders?

For centuries, in cultures around the world, elders were honored by their communities, entrusted with teaching traditions and ceremonies to the children. They were respected healers, herbalists, shaman, and midwives; They took care of the spiritual and physical needs of the community. In Council, the elders held the sacred space while the younger members listened with due respect. Often, the final decisions rested with them. These were the sages, the honored once. How things have changed.

We live in a culture that worships the young for their unbounded potential but devalues many of the elders and their rich store of experience. Worse yet our culture treats aging as an illness, a "Terminal illness at that. A large and profitable industry has grown up around keeping our elders out of sight, out of mind, segregated from the rest of society.

Our parents and grandparent are bundled off to homes for the elderly, often against their wishes; Once they are safely "stored," many are largely ignored. Though this is not true of every family or community, it is a growing trend. Just look at current statistics or, better yet, look in the community around you to see how visible seniors are in the community events, school programs, and family affairs. Sadly, the important role of elders in community life has been largely forgotten.

Even in the herbal community, where elders have long been honored for their sage advice and contributions, our aging parents and grandparents are over looked to some degree. Many herb books have been written in the past couple of decades, but only one specifically addresses the needs of our elder population. An Elder's Herbal by David Hoffman. People over the age of 65 make up 13 percent of the overall population in the United States, Consume the greatest amount of medication, and require the most medical assistance, you would think that you would see more books and articles on the natural health and healing for that age group? But we don't - though there are certainly enough television commercials and magazine ads, articles and pharmaceutical medications that specifically target this age group. Aren't the elderly interested in natural remedies, preventive medicine, and self-care?

Its true, the needs of the elder are different from those of a younger person. Much like the plants in the garden at different seasons of their lives, our bodies and spirits reflect the needs of our cycles of life. As children, the herbs and herbal remedies, focus on growth, childhood illnesses, and foundational health. Child bearing adults needs change and focus on reproductive health, remedies for stress and anxiety, and digestive and liver problems. Health concerns for the elderly change also. Information on herbs and natural therapies for the elderly are widely available, but they are often overlooked and under utilized. Herbs that maintain life force and contribute to the keen mind, healthy heart, and good digestion have been supplanted by synthetic medications and pharmaceuticals.

COMMUNITY AWARENESS

Winter Wellness

It's that time of the year when most of us have just about had our fill of the snow, the cold winter days, the muddy roads and the colds and flus that accompany the winter months. It seems every year the viruses going around get tougher to battle and can be particularly difficult in rural areas where access to over-the-counter symptom relief is not so easy to have on hand.

There are some basic things all of us can do to minimize the spread, severity and duration of colds and flus. Remember to practice the simple things, get plenty of rest, drink fluids and eat right. Frequent handwashing is also one of the best ways to protect yourself, your family and the community from the spread of contagious germs. An annual flu shot is also recommended for high-risk people of all ages but are specifically recommended for the young and elder population.

When Grandma's Chicken Soup and common sense fails to support your recovery, remember the many providers that offer services within the walls of our local clinic. Whether your approach is holistic or traditional western medicine, we're here to offer support to your wellbeing. Stop in and talk to us about the variety of ways we can support your efforts to stay strong and healthy.

Road Donations

The We Can Foundation and the residents of Christmas Valley have been given an opportunity. We have until April 30th to raise one thousand dollars—on April 30th, Joe Schmitt will write a check for what we raise up to $1,000. Assuming we raise $1,000, on April 30th that money becomes $2,000. Matching funds are a wonderful tool to engage the community, and garner enthusiasm for [and jump start] a project. Our hats off to Joe for contacting us and giving us this opportunity.

Those of us who drive on Christmas Valley roads totally get the sad and unsafe condition they are in—we have holes you can lose a car in; our senior and disabled especially are having problems with traversing our roads. $2,000 combined with the volunteer effort would be a huge boost and start to the necessary emergency repairs as we continue to explore other avenues to totally fund all our road repairs and on-going maintenance; if more than $1,000 is donated that allows more work on the roads.

The We Can Foundation is a private foundation created to improve the land and lives of Lake County. We have many on-going projects with more on the horizon. All money raised during this matching fund drive will be used for our Ruts to Roads project: All donations are tax deductible and there are many ways to donate:

- 1) Send a check to the We Can Foundation, PO Box 46, Christmas Valley, OR 97641.*
- 2) Drop off your check or cash at the library.*
- 3) Call Barbara Johnson, 541-306-9607, to make other arrangements.*
- 4) Put money in one of the donation jars around town*
