How Not to Say Good-Bye!!

As I drove to work this morning
my mind started to race on all the things I really needed to do.
I was like wow my last day, and a tear formed in my eye, because I am not good at Good-byes. My saying has always been, "I will see ya later!"

The friends I have made are amazing. I have gained new sisters and really a whole new family. And each and everyone of you play a special part in my life each day. Trust me I will never forget you and you can always follow me on facebook or whatever. Be kind to each other.

So, lets not say "good bye" just,
"see ya later." Okay? After all,
my daughter is staying and I do have the grand kids that I can't stay away from for too long So until then. I will see ya later!

Briana Church – 4(?) time state champion, not so fast!

Entering her senior year, Briana Church had the opportunity to do what no other female in Oregon history (nor future) could exceed: win her fourth straight pole vault state championship. Throughout the course of her career, she has seen it all. When we started track here at North Lake, we had a dirt track(ish) and that was it. We cleared out some sod for a dirt runway, dug a hole in the ground for the plant box, bought a roll-out rubber runway, and put a 27 year old pit on pallets on the grass. Pole vault began for the Cowboys and Cowgirls there when she was a freshman. Halfway through the year, we had fund-raised enough money to break ground on an 8-lane, all-weather track. Nonetheless, Briana won our district meet and qualified for the state meet with the top vault in the state, entering the 1A championship competition. I remember being on the runway at Hayward with her and her freshman teammate Jessica House (also a qualifier in the vault) to help them measure their steps and with their warm-up. My last words of encouragement to them prior to the competition were met with two young ladies visibly trembling with fear. Imagine standing on the hallowed grounds of Hayward Field at The University of Oregon, Tracktown USA, and the most picturesque scene in all the world, as a 15 year old from a town where their "next-door neighbor" is more than a mile away. Lake County is one of the largest counties in America in terms of square miles- larger than three states. However, the 7,000 people in population could easily fit within the venue they were competing in. This is akin to playing in Yankee Stadium or Notre Dame's football stadium. During the competition, Briana was flawless. She went throughout the competition without a miss until after she had it won; this was the first and most important step to becoming a four-time state champion.

Fast forward to her sophomore year, when she had the opportunity to receive some expert mentoring from THE pioneer in women's Pole Vaulting: Olympic Gold medalist and former world record holder Stacy Dragila. While Briana had the opportunity to train with Stacy at her home (and even babysit the kids), the overwhelming amount of information she had to absorb put her into a funk; much of her sophomore year was spent vaulting better in practice but unable to put it all together in a meet. She won her second straight state championship but was extremely disappointed because the height wasn't as high as the previous year. The look on her face in the picture on the podium told it all. The funny part of the story was what actually, I think, helped her relax and win. It came in her first vault at her opening height. Things weren't great in warm-ups, and she was snippy at me wanting me to fix it. Telling her to relax wasn't going to work. We decided to start really low and get some more "run-thrus" while vaulting. I had her really focus on her plant on her first vault, which was about two feet lower than her best, and she nailed her approach and her plant. I was happy. Apparently, so was she. She was so happy with the plant that she forgot about the rest of the vault and literally brought the pole with her over the crossbar. I'll say that again: she left the ground, went over the bar and brought the pole over the bar with her onto the mat. She cleared the bar legally

North Lake Community Fireworks

Community of North Lake!

Are you ready to watch all your generous donations go up in smoke with a flash and a bang?!? We met our fund raising goal last year, so we were all set for a great show! Then the COVID pandemic hit. There was a lot of angst about whether we would be allowed to put on our display this year, but in the end, the show will go on! We will be putting on a display on the 4th of July at the same venue as usual. That being said, there are changes to our normal activities.

The North Lake Community Fireworks team does our best to raise the funds necessary by January 1st to provide the entertainment that so many in our community enjoy on our nation's Independence Day, the 4th of July. We voluntarily participate in several fund raising events through out the year to generate the money that directly funds the order of fireworks for our display. Many of our fund-raising activities have been cancelled this year due to social distancing requirements! We depend, to a great extent, on charitable donations and this year we need extra help!

Due to the past year's global economy, our cost to put on a show comparable to last year's has increased dramatically. Our goal was to secure $10,000, before January 1st, 2020. We were successful! But this year, we are unable to put on the children's carnival, the waterparks, or any other fund raisers that we normally participate in. This is where you can help us, our community, and yourselves! It is a potential win, win, win!

If you enjoy our show this year, or have enjoyed any of our previous shows, please consider donating to the 2021 show, and spread the word! All donations to the North Lake Community Fireworks Fund are tax deductible. Any money you can donate directly impacts the coming year's fireworks display and every penny counts. Why not help yourself to a receipt for a tax-deductible charitable donation to a local non-profit organization? And remember; every cent you donate goes directly to buying fireworks. Our volunteers don't take any compensation beyond the pride we feel when we hear people talk about our shows!

The community relies on us for the fireworks displays that remind us all of what Independence Day is about, and we rely on the community to help us provide the funding that facilitates these displays. Our most memorable displays come from the support of those who can afford to give more monetary donations than they can afford to give their time. So... you know you are getting your money's worth when you get to enjoy watching every cent of your donation go up in smoke!

Please consider making a donation to the North Lake Community Fireworks fund. Make checks payable to North Lake Community Fireworks Fund. Donations may be given to Patty Effingham at her office, Erica Anderson at the Water Department office, Carrie Mace or Becky Widenoja at CV Market, Lloyd Mace at Robin's Equipment, or Jim Anderson or Ben Widenoja at Point S Tires. Please ensure we have an address to send your receipt to.

We, and our community, thank you for your charity and support!

and almost knocked out the official waiting to catch her pole when she was supposed to 'throw' it back. The crowd didn't know what to think. I heard tons of murmuring asking, "Is that legal?" Up went the white flag by the head official indicating a legal jump and clearance, and the crowd erupted in cheers and laughter at the same time. It was the first time all day (maybe even all week) she had smiled. That funny moment helped relax her enough to get out of her own head. I still get a kick out of that story.

As a junior she had incredible focus all year. She had blossomed into a leader on our team improving in every area of her life. Her grades improved exponentially, her workouts had purpose. However, the heights didn't come immediately. Then, the good weather arrived later in the track season and so did the heights. In a side note, the week before districts, she asked if she could throw the javelin in a meet. I said sure, and she proceeded to throw a mark that was top-10 in the state. She had a new event. She went on to place 5th in the state. This was a pleasant distraction on the way to the state meet. She had again led our level throughout the year in the pole vault, but now there were a number of challengers from other 1A schools around the state. I knew she had a great head-space at the state meet after she missed her first attempt at her first height at state. Missed? Yes, because of how she handled it. For those that don't follow the pole vault, you get three attempts at each height. When you miss three in a row, your competition is over, period. Missing the first attempt at the first height puts an enormous amount of added pressure on a vaulter and causes the coach to lose more hairs. In addition to that, this was at the state meet and she was two-time defending state champion. This multiplies the nerves by a factor of 10. Usually my vaulters will seek me out after a vault, make or miss to question, or confirm what was good or what to do next. She walked away and turned her back. I waited and watched. She looked away from the competition area and I saw her shoulders rise with the expanding of a deep breath and slowly lower with the exhale. She sat down, went back to her routine, and crushed the next six vaults by a mile equaling her PR of 9' 6" on the sixth. However this year, unlike those in the past, after Briana had equaled that PR, she wasn't alone. Another vaulter also cleared that same height, which for her was 12" PR. The entire field was vaulting incredible throughout. On the first attempt at 9'9" the Imbler girl cleared again, adding three more inches to her unheard of PR, and Briana missed. She stepped away again, took a deep breath, and crushed the next two vaults, winning her third straight 1A State Championship.

This year, as a senior, she was looking towards a fourth straight title when she had to vault against a new foe: one invisible to the naked eye. She had vaulted in sun, good wind, bad wind, rain, even snow. She had never vaulted against someone or something that couldn't even run. The senior season ended for her barely before it started. She had two phenomenal practices prior to the shut-down on our brand new PV pits that were adorned with a black base pad with white "NORTH LAKE" emblazoned on the sides and a bright red top mat with our school star and cowboy logo. All of this was extremely disappointing for her (as you can imagine), but that was also met with joy and the drive to move forward to college. Her hopes were renewed when she received a scholarship offer to compete for the Mountaineers of Eastern Oregon University in La Grande, Oregon, an NAIA school with a reputation for success and a fantastic pole vault coach. She plans on studying agriculture and business, and even to try out for the women's basketball team.

Briana will be sorely missed this year, as will all of our seniors. We wish them all skill (luck has nothing to do with it) and blessings as they go forth to make those of us in the north end of Lake County proud!

Wanda Helen Lanier (1946-2020)

Wanda Helen Lanier, 73, a longtime resident of Christmas Valley, OR, passed away peacefully on May 24, 2020, with her son Darren Dutcher (Redmond) at her side.

Wanda was born October 27, 1946, in Manhattan, NY to Walter and Evelyn Zvir. The family moved to Colorado Springs, CO, so Walter could be employed by Earl Beckett. A few years, a divorce then marriage, later Wanda found herself in Christmas Valley, OR, with her mother Evelyn and step-father John Pettus. Wanda is 3rd generation in Christmas Valley. Her maternal grandparents, Earl and Minnie Beckett were homesteaders in 1913 (before moving to Colorado Springs). Wanda's family have owned land in Christmas Valley for over 100 years. In 2013, Wanda's family celebrated a century in Christmas Valley with a reunion.

Wanda graduated from Paisley High School in 1965. Soon thereafter, Wanda and Denny Dutcher (deceased) married and became parents to Sandra Blackman (Christmas Valley), and twins Darren and Drew (deceased) Dutcher. Denny was deployed to Viet Nam when Wanda was pregnant, so she stayed with her sister Suallen in Bend. She got up in the morning and said "I'm going to have my baby today." Not having a car, she walked to the hospital delivered Sandra, walked home, and went back the next day to pick up Sandra.

Wanda loved Christmas Valley, loved the "laid-backness," and knew most people. She had a saying, "I don't need to use my turn-signal, they know where I'm going." You walk into the store and they all know you. Wanda was also very active in the community. She and husband Denny started doing fireworks for their kids (and the neighbor kids) on the 4th of July. That tradition has grown over the last 50 years into a pyrotechnic display to be envied, which attracts people from 100's of miles.

Wanda was with her mother, Evelyn, when Phil Pitmen said, you better get your real estate license, I just sold the whole damn desert to M. Penn Phillips Company." So Wanda and her mother got their Real Estate License and sold real estate. Wanda referred to this time as the "good ole days."

Wanda also worked for the forestry department. She attended firefighter school, was deployed to Mt. St. Helens, post-eruption, was a smoke jumper, spent time in a lookout station. All the time she was busy with the 4th of July pyrotechnic display and other activities. It has been mentioned she was a Rodeo Princess back in the day of rodeos. Also, it was during this time when game was essential and Wanda provided a elk for the family three years in a row. This happened before the roads were paved, you think the roads are bad now?

Because of her hard work to get North Lake School where it is today, she received a "Gold Shovel" for the ground-breaking. She was a presenter at the first graduation. Wanda spent the last years working at Park and Recreation. Wanda was honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award from her community for all she did.

Wanda is predeceased by her father, Walter, mother Evelyn, sister Suallen, husbands Denny Dutcher and later Sonny Lanier, and her son, Drew Dutcher. She is survived by her step-father John Pettus, brother Jon Beckett, daughter, Sandra Blackman, son, Darren Dutcher his wife Kelly and grandchildren MacKenzie Dutcher, Bailey Threet, Danielle Elizabeth and Darren A. Dutcher.

EXOTIC PLANTS:

Chili Pepper: Capsicum frutescens L.
Nightshade family: Solanaceae

It should be no surprise to anyone who has bitten into a hot pepper that the fleshy scarlet fruit contains a rubefacient; that is, a substance that causes human skin to glow fiery red. The substance is called capsaicin, and it does so by triggering an increase in blood circulation to the area it touches.

If that skin overlies sore muscles, the excess blood can reduce pain and promote healing. For this reason, capsaicin is a key ingredient in many liniments and, together with other compounds found in chili peppers, is prescribed in the treatment of rheumatism, bursitis, and other such ailments. It is also used to treat stomachaches that involve poorly functioning stomach muscles, and because the red-hot chili pepper is an inhospitable place for bacteria, its extracts have been used as antibacterial agents.

Capsaicin was not isolated until 1876, but the fruit of the shrub has served mankind for centuries. Before 1494 Indians of the American tropics cultivated chili peppers and used them in cooking. They found food containing them was slower to spoil and easier to digest than food without them.

The Spanish and the Portuguese carried them to many ports of call, and before long, were established in Africa and India. Today, they are grown in warm climates throughout the world, and their annual relatives, including the familiar bell pepper, are common place in gardens everywhere. Much of the worlds supply of capsaicin today comes from plants grown in India and Japan.

Mommy & Me Group

Submitted

Do you have a little one, age birth to three years old, who doesn't meet the requirements for Preschool on Tuesdays? You and your child are invited to join Mrs. Anthony on the first and third Thursdays of each month from 10:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. at the North Lake School annex building for a Mommy and Me Play Group. "We will be exploring our world around us through music, movement, and sensory play," says Mrs. Anthony. "We will also be doing Make and Take activities once a month that you can do with your kiddos at home."

If you have questions, please call Mrs. Anthony at 503-351-7855.
